GREAT REVOLUTIONARY WORK .-

No. 112 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON,

Will publish by subscription

THE LIFE, LETTERS AND DISPATCHES OF MAJOR

GENERAL NATHANIEL GREENE.

In 7 vols. 8vo. With Portraits, Maps and Buttle Plans, is style similar to Sparks's "Washington" and the Works of

John Adams. From the original manuscripts in the possession of his family. By his grandson, GRORGE WASHINGTON GREENE. Price $2.25 per volume. Subscriptions will now be received.

From Jared Sparks, LL. D.

The work you propose will be a very valuable contribution to American History I have read many of Gen. Greene's letters. They are marked by a peculiar felicity of style a clearness of conception, a fluency of language, a depth of thought and a range of ideas, which prove at once the power and versatility of his mind. His energy of character and action was equaled only by the ardor of his patriotism.

From the late Vice-President Wm. R. King.

Bern in North Carelina, I feel the obligations of my native State, and of the whole South, to General Greene. He was without doubt the great military genius of the Revolution.

From Lieut Gen. Winfield Scott.

I shall subscribe for a copy of the "Life and Writings of Washington." These names are indissoluble in their immortality.

From Alexander Hamilton's Eulogy on Gen. Greene.

In his life we have a succession of deeds as glorious as they are unequivocal to artest his greatness and perpetuate the honors of his name. His abilities entitled him to a preeminent share in the counsels of his Chief. He gained it and he preserved it.

From the Hon. Edward Everett share in the counsels of his Chief. He gained it and he preserved it.

From the Hon Edward Everett
I am happy to learn that you propose to publish the Letters and Dispatches of General Greene. His position in the army of the Revolution, second only to that of its illustrious Chief, and the importance of the events with which he was immediately connected, will make his correspondence highly interesting to the general reader, and extremely important to the stadent of American History.

From a speech of the Hon. R. Toombs, in the U. S. Senate, Dec 23, 1856, on Revolutionary Claims.

I hope the unpublished papers of General Greene will soon be printed, because there are in them many Revolutionary remuniscences of great interest, and they will be valuable even for the administration of justice on an occasion like this. I have had access to some of these papers through the kindness of his son.

have had access to some of these papers tarough the Almander of his son.

From the 4th vol. of Irving's "Life of Washington."
The news of Greene's death struck heavily on Washington's heart, to whom, in the most arduous trials of the Revolution, he had been a second self. "He was great and good man," was Washington's comprehensive eulogy of him.

We are happy to learn (adds Irving) that a complete collection of the correspondence of General Greene is about to be be published by his worthy and highly cultivated grandson, George Washington Greene. It is a work that, like Sparks's "Writings of Washington," should form a part of every American library.

The movements are new, eimple and beautiful in plan and construction, remarkably easy of repair, and have been pronounced by the ablest chromometer and watch-makers to be faultless in principle and quality, and by all who have used them to be reliable in performance. Each one is engraved "Appleton Tracy & Co., Waltham, Mass.," and is accompanied by a certificate of squuinchess and perpetual warranty over our written signature.

We ask no man to buy these Watches merely because they are of American manufacture. We sak only that this fact shall not be permitted to exclude them from consideration. We claim that Watches equal in quality and merit cannot be obtained so chesp in Europe; and we ask our countrymost to give these at trail under our warranty.
